

THE SHADOW GOVERNMENT'S HIDDEN AGENDA ON UFOs

With its arsenal of electromagnetic psy-ops weapons and reverse-engineered craft, the 'shadow government' has been engaged in fake abduction scenarios and may still be planning to stage an alien attack.

Out Of The Shadows

It is critical to understand that an enormous and sophisticated disinformation campaign exists around the whole extraterrestrial question: at least 90 per cent of the information and images portrayed to the public are selected to evoke fear, followed by hatred of all things alien. Movies, TV shows and books about the subject prove this point: if one is to believe that rubbish, you would think that every other person in America is being snatched from his or her home at midnight and tortured! It simply isn't true. But fear and horror sell, and the usual suspects benefit from a terrified, misinformed populace.

We know that clandestine paramilitary operations exist, controlled by a shadowy group staging simulated UFO/ETV [extraterrestrial vehicle] events. This is not speculation: we have interviewed many independently corroborating military people who have participated on the teams that have deliberately "abducted" people to create the illusion of real extraterrestrial encounters.

In the "UFO industry" there is the multimillion-dollar abduction subculture, funded by powerful, wealthy interests (including certain European royal families along with industrial scions in the United States). Stories publicised are very deliberately selected. If someone comes to one of the abduction support groups and researchers with the accounts I've shared [see chapters one and two], that person will be shown the door. They only want to select the terrifying stories—those from people who have had simulated encounters, foisted on them by a military effort that is trying to create psychological propaganda. This will support future "Star Wars" expenditures down the road by sowing the seeds of division between humans and extraterrestrial people.

It is part of a well-thought-out plan to divide one group against another. And in order to do this, a threat must be demonstrated and the supposed "enemy" demonised. So most of the UFO/ET information put out is designed by counterintelligence, psy-ops and disinformation people for specific, intended effects. The first is simply to discredit the subject, because most of their stories don't hold up under scrutiny. The second, in my opinion, is to create a foundation of fear upon which to build the edifice of "Star Wars". And no less a figure than Wernher von Braun told a member of our team, Carol Rosin, that in fact this was exactly what was going on: that weapons will be based in space, hence the need to create a psychological nexus where people will fear all things alien; then, down the road (when the folks enjoying the multitrillion-dollar bonanza of current industrial and military operations decide the deception has gone on long enough), they can declare that the world needs to unite around "kicking alien butt" (as quoted in the movie Independence Day).

Keep in mind that the Cold War and all the things going on today will pale in comparison to the financial benefit to be gained by stampeding the masses into a false idea of a threat from outer space that must be resisted. Instead of extracting unlimited dollars for the military operations from the United States and the West, the imagined "threat" will produce enough xenophobia to ensure a "blank check" or steady flow of government dollars in the name of preserving safety and world peace. Sound familiar?

This assessment comes from having interviewed numerous military people inside the organisations dealing with this. I've been told point-blank that this has been an ongoing agenda since at least the 1950s. These operations have used what are called "alien reproduction vehicles", manufactured by a consortium of companies that include Lockheed Martin, Northrup, SAIC, E-Systems, EG&G and Mitre Corporation, among others. These are man-made antigravity devices that we've been using since at least the 1950s, along with other powerful electronic weapons systems and "programmed life-forms" or PLFs. These are biological, artificial life-forms being produced to look a lot like these so-called "Greys"—but are not from outer space. They're manufactured in a few facilities, one of them located in the Four Corners area near Dulce, New Mexico.

This is a concerted effort to create a false "alien threat". If someone comes forward with a dissimilar story, they're blacklisted from lectures and subsequently are unable to get their story out to the public or the media in book form or through any other significant channel. But those who create terrifying messages—akin to the movie Independence Day or certain abduction books—receive high dollar-advances along with big publishing deals and film contracts. This is assuredly by design.

The power elite wants those alarming stories seeded into the mass consciousness and for the truth to be buried. I have met with people who are funding abduction cults in the United States and Europe.

Aside from having interviewed military people who've perpetrated these pseudo-abductions, I've personally been told by no less a figure than the reigning member of a European royal family that he helps fund these efforts. He reasons that the frightening stories need to be out there to make the world aware that these "evil aliens" exist and must be fought. He went so far as to say that, in fact, every major Earthly problem since Adam and Eve is attributable to the machinations of these demonic extraterrestrials. He genuinely believes this! And he is also the chief funder of Opus Dei, which is the sensitive right-wing group at the Vatican with an internal secret cell operating these programs. Additionally, I was told that his reason for terminating support for a prominent author in this field (who will remain unnamed here) is that his stories weren't sufficiently alarming: he was portraying interaction between humans and ETs too positively. The sponsor only wanted the most terrifying tales put out to the public!

A prominent leader of one of these abduction groups told me point blank that if someone attends their meetings whose experiences don't fit the mode of military abductions (which are harrowing), they'll kick them out. So, it's a self-selecting, fraudulent process.

This well-oiled machine marches out false, contrived, "alien encounters". These are then funnelled to specific researchers, who then get channelled into specific movie, documentary and/or book deals. And it's all lucrative. It is being done specifically to generate propaganda designed to marshal the masses against this supposed threat from outer space, thereby perpetuating and augmenting the already thriving hoax.

Within the shadow government is a hard-core group of eschatologists: people obsessed with the end of the world, who would like to see it go out in one big eco-alien cataclysm to hasten the return of Christ! This is their agenda: they maintain that the world has to be in the most dire of conditions for the Second Coming to occur, and they hope to make circumstances ripe for that goal. It is just plain madness. With this degree of hyper-religiosity, fanaticism and cultish secrecy combined with enormous power, the results are predictably outrageous.

A few years ago, I attended a meeting in New York with Mrs Boutros-Ghali, the wife of the United Nations Secretary-General, and some of the "New York 100" crowd. A woman approached me to say, "Well, I'll have you know I've read 26 books about UFOs and abductions."

I said, "Well, with all due respect, that means that you've incorporated into your awareness 26 times more disinformation and rubbish than someone who's only read one book." I'm not quite sure I endeared myself to her, but it is the truth.

I have shared my insight with some very senior military personnel as well as people like Mrs Boutros-Ghali and others. Their first response isn't that it can't be true, but they're just horrified that it may be...

In 1991, I was approached by a number of the people who run the super-secret projects related to UFOs and advanced energy systems. They had read one of my early papers about the concept of oneness and our civilisation, and the experience of cosmic awareness and cosmic people. They emphasised the importance of sharing this information with their group. These were people who called me from the CIA, Lockheed, McDonnell Douglas and similar operations. Everything I'd written up till then was primarily intended for this group.

The masses of people simply want to live their lives peacefully. They don't care about ripping each other's throats out. There is only a very small minority of humans who are psychotically violent and controlling. The fires of hatred and conflict that keep getting ignited have been lit deliberately because they're benefiting this violent group.

There is a relatively small number of people who have a perspective that is retrograde. They are looking in their rear-view mirror and mistaking it for the future. So our task has been to turn their heads to look forward.

It is important that we view these very powerful industrial, military and religious interests as educable...

The Offer

...I had agreed to help convene a conference in May 1992 at the St Malo retreat outside of Rocky Mountain National Park with astronaut Brian O'Leary, Maury Albertson (one of the co-founders of the Peace Corps) and the Institute for New Science. It was a private retreat and we invited everyone involved in the civilian UFO world. There were a number of other people who, of course, turned out to be intelligence operatives, including General T. E. and his friend the psychiatrist.

I wanted to create a collegial environment where there could be a sharing of information and perspective. In reality, I found out that the whole UFO civilian world was so rife with paid disinformation hacks and warring factions that within two nanoseconds of arriving at this facility they had pulled out their knives and hatchets and were sinking them into everyone's back—including my own. That was when I learned what a snake pit the civilian UFO world really is.

During the course of this retreat, the general and the psychiatrist were trying to court me into joining their group. The general said, "You know, we have an organisation that deals with this that is very private...", the word "private" being a loaded word meaning "super-covert". I knew what he was saying. Then he said, "If you would just merge your operation with ours, we will give you as much money and as much power and access to technologies as you could ever dream."

And I said, "Thanks, but no thanks. I don't need it. I thought I made that clear when we met in Atlanta last month."

But he persisted in attempting to convince me—because they knew the kind of threat we could pose to their covert monopoly on the issue. They said as much.

A good friend of the NSA guy who was there and another CIA guy came to me and said, "You know, they are very jealous of what you are doing because they are in a black box and can only do certain things for certain purposes. You are a free agent and you can do more than they can!"

I knew this. I explained, "We may not have temporal power but we are free—and have other powers that are God-given."

Eventually, the general went to Emily, my wife, without my being present. He told her about this group—but he didn't call it "MJ-12". He said there was a board for this group. He said that this board had a certain number of seats on it. Interestingly, he said that the number was nine. Of course, he had done deep research into us and knew we are Baha'is and our holy number is nine. So, he said there are nine board members, each with his own shield—a certain crest—that would be given to me if I would simply take my organisation and merge it with his.

And Emily, being very sweet, said, "Oh, he seems so nice and he said all these wonderful, flattering things about you!"

I said, "Yes, dear, but can't you see what they are trying to do?"

Finally I went to them and I said, "Look, let me be clear. I am fiercely independent and I am going to keep this a private, clean operation with its intended purposes. There is no amount of cajoling and no amount of money or offers of power that will ever change that!"

By the way, General T. E. has been involved with these covert projects since he was a very young man. I confirmed this through independent sources. He had been head of US Army Intelligence before he "retired". But he was just telling people that he was retired. They never retire—until they end up in a coffin.

I met a military pilot who, in the 1960s, was in a special operation to pursue UFOs and film them. He told me that once a crew had such an encounter, they were split up and sent to various new posts—but that all the information went directly to a guy he was convinced I had never heard of: General T. E.! When he told me this story I laughed and said, "I know him well!"

After rejecting these advances by the general, within 30 days the entire Internet had websites set up and messages being sent out to the public attacking me. They unleashed all the dogs within the UFO civilian community, within the press, everywhere. I was called everything from a cultist to a demonic communer with extraterrestrial sinister forces to a fraud. Then they released the lie that I'm not a medical doctor. Here I am at the hospital and they have put it out there that I am not even licensed to practise medicine! I then have to release to the public my medical licence and degree to show that I am actually a medical doctor! The psychological warfare and harassment were intense—and continue to this day. For 14 years it has been a relentless series of attacks, character assassinations and defamations, and every kind of dirty trick.

General T. E. told me a number of things. For example, he said there are extraterrestrial craft and facilities underneath the surface of Mars and that covert projects have imaged them. He also privately told me about all kinds of assets that covert programs have that are advanced technologies—up to the level of what the ETs have. I was able to gather quite a bit of good information through the courtship that was being attempted. I learned that this particular "cell" was interfacing with the civilian UFO world from the covert world. It is an interface group and has penetrated many civilian UFO projects...

The Crossing Point of Light

By the fall of 1993, I was on a very steep learning curve regarding how the shadow government had infiltrated not only the covert world and the government and corporations but also the civilian media and the civilian UFO community.

After the Rockefeller meeting and our briefings at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base [September 1993], I reconnected with the man who was friends with CIA director Woolsey. He was convinced that we needed to get this information through a number of channels to not only the president but other senior officials in the administration. We were doing this through the president's science adviser, [Laurance] Rockefeller and a friend of Bill Clinton who supported our effort. This man's brother was also in the White House and was a very close associate of Bill Clinton.

We were approaching the powers-that-be in a friendly, helpful way, saying, "Look, the time has come for disclosure to happen. The Cold War is over. There is a window of opportunity here to disclose to the public, in a positive way, the fact that these extraterrestrial vehicles are real and that there are classified projects that may have been justifiable during the pressures of the Cold War but are not justifiable any longer. Disclosure needs to happen now. We have a chance to make a break from the past."

We were also saying, in the same breath: "If you don't do it, we will. We'll find a way to do it by collecting enough sources to make a convincing case." This is exactly what The Disclosure Project is.

With this fresh impetus, we decided we needed to get further insight into the intelligence operations.

James Woolsey was nominated and confirmed by the Senate in 1993; and now in our story this is September '93, so he had not been in that position for very long. We found out from our senior White House contacts that in fact the president as well as the CIA director were trying to find out through channels what the truth was about this subject. We were also told that they were being flat-out lied to.

"There is a window of opportunity here to disclose to the public, in a positive way, the fact that these extraterrestrial vehicles are real..."

I have a letter that was sent to me via FedEx in the fall of 1993 by this CIA director's friend, saying that CIA director Woolsey had made enquiries into the UFO matter and could not find out anything about it and was being lied to. Further, they knew they were being lied to! He told me that the CIA director wanted me to come to Washington, and that I was going to be the first person to brief the CIA director on this. Well, I thought that he had gone stark, raving mad. I'm thinking: here I am, a country doctor in North Carolina, and I'm supposed to be going to DC to meet with the Director, Central Intelligence, on something that is Spook Central? Right! To be honest with you, my initial reaction was that this had to be a prevarication. I viewed it as a cover story: that the CIA director knew everything and that he just wanted to find out what we knew and what we were up to. As it turned out, I was wrong: Woolsey and the president really were out of the loop.

On December 13, 1993, we went to Washington to meet with Woolsey. The cover story was a dinner at his friend's house. There were six of us, three couples: my wife and I, the CIA director and his wife (who, happily, was the chief operating officer of the National Academy of Sciences so we were able to kill two birds with one stone), his friend and his wife. Our hostess, it turned out, didn't know who was coming to dinner until the day of the event. Can you imagine? "Honey, guess who's coming to dinner? Oh, the CIA director and this extraterrestrial expert, Dr Greer." Wow! Can you imagine coming home and telling your wife that?

I remember arriving with Emily in the late afternoon at the CIA director's friend's house. I had a whole briefcase full of materials. We discussed what we were going to do, but I had no idea how long this meeting might be. We all knew that this was a very serious briefing for the CIA director. He was being lied to about the most important secret in the history of the world. Woolsey's wife arrived by private vehicle first, and then the CIA director arrived via Secret Service escort. After initial greetings and about 10 minutes of going through some of the materials, documents, photographs, cases and so forth, the CIA director said, "Yes, I know these are real."

It turned out that he and his wife had actually seen one of these UFOs years ago in New Hampshire, and so he didn't have any doubt that they existed. But what he wanted to know was why he wasn't being told anything, whether there are any current projects dealing with it, why the extraterrestrials are here and what all this means.

People often think that senior officials like that would be laughing up their sleeve at this subject. But no! The man was visibly shaken. He was profoundly upset that, as CIA director, something this important was being withheld from him and the president. He was extremely upset about it. At one point, I thought he was actually going to break down and cry. I considered his reaction an entirely appropriate response, given the gravity of the subject, and I was hopeful of the outcome of the meeting.

The meeting that I thought might be half an hour or so went on for nearly three hours. During that meeting, we discussed everything he wanted to know. And I told him why the extraterrestrials are here, and I explained why this is being kept secret. And I explained exactly what should be done to fix the problem.

It was, I was acutely aware, a terrible responsibility to take on. I felt the gravity of this situation. I'm dealing with someone who is arguably one of the most powerful people in the world, and I find out that the emperor has no clothes! I find out that information is lost in the system and being denied to people who are running the most powerful country in the world. And then I find out they're not running the country at all and that there's a shadow government that's really running the whole show, and that this is now being confirmed to me by a sitting CIA director.

I went from being a complete sceptic—that someone at that level of power and authority would really be out of the loop—to understanding how far out of the loop he was...and not just the CIA director but also the president. It was then that I realised the severity of the dysfunction within what we think is a constitutional republic and a democratic type of government—to the point that there is flat-out lying to people at this level of constitutional authority and responsibility. I had doubted that the CIA director, the president and others who were being denied access to these projects were being lied to.

But, because now I have been with people like a sitting CIA director and sitting members of the Senate Intelligence Committee and similar officials throughout the world and seen their faces and their body language and their reactions, I can assure you that things are not what the big media tell you they are.

I shared with Woolsey the information that these extraterrestrial beings are here for peaceful purposes. I explained that many UFO sightings are of craft made by covert programs in the United States and elsewhere, that the technologies behind these vehicles are very powerful and are in the wrong hands. I also made the point that this matter had to be brought under constitutional control and this could only be done by the president. As a weak back-up position, the Congress could do an investigation, but, really, because of the structure of the executive branch and its supervisory and immediate control over the chain of command, leadership had to come from the executive branch—the president. I remember giving him, toward the end of the meeting, a set of recommendations which we subsequently published.

So, I delivered the evidence into the hands of a sitting CIA director and recommended what needs to be done to disclose this information, end the secrecy and get this matter back under proper control and oversight. I was naturally hoping for some action, but he asked me, "How do we disclose that which we have no access to?"

Disappointed, but still pressing the point, I said, "You have to get control of it. You have to insist on access."

He just looked away. He knew what was involved.

During the time we were seated for our dinner, the CIA director was sitting across from me and his wife was next to him. The group was discussing all these issues that had been raised.

Finally, Dr Woolsey, the CIA director's wife, asked, "Do you know how these craft communicate across the vast distances of space?"

"This means that any civilisation that's got here has mastered those technologies and sciences that deal with everything beyond the speed of light—what I call the 'crossing point' of light."

I said, "Look, these extraterrestrial civilisations have figured out the structure of space and time and non-locality..."

"The speed of light is just too damned slow," I continued. "It's not a viable means of communication or travel when you start talking about interstellar distances. Quite frankly, it's barely sufficient, if you're not over the speed of light, to go around even our own solar system. This means that any civilisation that's got here has mastered those technologies and sciences that deal with everything beyond the speed of light—what I call the 'crossing point' of light. If they've mastered that, they have discovered this nexus where electromagnetism, matter, space, time and consciousness all come together." It is, in fact, like the Moody Blues song: "Thinking is the best way to travel".

I explained that these extraterrestrial civilisations have technology-assisted consciousness systems as well as consciousness-assisted technology, where there's an interface between mind and thought and a specialised physics and electromagnetism. And so when they communicate, the message is communicated from point A, say here on Earth, back to a home planet, point B, 1,000 light years away, in real time. That's because it has dropped out of linear space-time and has crossed over into this non-local aspect of the Universe. This involves some very sophisticated physics but also encompasses the realms of thought and of consciousness.

They can think to a device or interface with a device, and it will instantly and accurately convey that signal and that message to another point—and this is technological; it's not just "telepathic". The information and images are transferred non-locally to another point in space, no matter how far away, in real time. It is like two nodes, instantaneously resonating. The signal goes from one node to another, bypassing linear space-time...

A number of people I've worked with who have been in covert aerospace and electronics firms that deal with this subject have confirmed to me that we have retrieved extraterrestrial communication devices that do exactly that: they interface with thought and consciousness and respond to thought and consciousness. They are tuned to be able to do that.

Well, the hours spent with the CIA director and his wife were certainly eventful and revealing. Toward the end of the evening, I sensed that he very much appreciated the information and was very interested. But I also sensed the profound tragedy and sadness in the moment when he asked me, "How do we disclose that which we have no access to?"

I realised then the enormity of the challenge ahead of us. I recalled the dysfunction that we had been warned about by Eisenhower when he said to beware of the military-industrial complex and the threat posed to our liberty and security by its excesses. What Eisenhower warned us about had fully matured into a level of dysfunction of truly epic proportions, and I was witnessing it first hand.

As we said goodbye I realised that the entire time we had been inside, the place had been monitored. We saw there were Secret Service people out front. Of course, they had a SAG wagon and armed guards with earphones—the works!

In many ways, the encounter was traumatic for me—but I was grateful because I was able to learn the truth.

"We Are Always With You"

A few interesting anecdotes will give you an idea of the kinds of people I've encountered doing this work.

For example, while organising the conference with astronaut Brian O'Leary in Colorado in 1992, we were approached by a woman who was insisting on coming to the private retreat for researchers. This was Colonel M. K.'s companion, now wife, who was claiming to be a journalist. She was actually part of psy-ops and psy-warfare projects with the colonel, whose speciality was psychotronic, radionic, mind-control weapons and what are incorrectly called "non-lethal" weapons systems. These weapons systems are actually used at times to kill people; they use so-called scalar, longitudinal, electromagnetic waves.

Somehow, she got my home number. I was away, so she spoke to my wife—a wonderful woman who epitomises noblesse oblige and kindness. So this woman said, "Just exactly who do I have to fuck to get into this meeting?" This, to my wife! Such was our introduction to the enlightened community of spooks and UFO sub-culture crazies, and it's been downhill from there.

That's all you need to know about the calibre of such folk. When I tell people that the people you encounter in this field are some of the meanest, nastiest, most venal, corrupt people that you will ever meet anywhere on What Eisenhower warned us about had fully matured into a level of dysfunction of truly epic proportions, and I was witnessing it first hand.

Earth in any sub-culture or setting, I mean it.

But you also meet some wonderful people. One of the people who came to a lecture was Dorothy Ives, the wife of Oscar-winning actor Burl Ives. Mr Ives had been friends with the Nixons and the Reagans and a number of other political figures, and was a 32nd-degree Mason.

Dorothy came up to me after the lecture, very excited, and asked if I'd return to her home and meet with Burl. I suggested that she come with me up to the MacGuire Ranch where we were going to make contact with the ETs, and then we could go see Burl...

Burl and I became fast friends... We met for a long time discussing a plethora of issues, the secrecy, the technologies, ET contact... "You know, this is the most sane crazy person you've ever introduced me to," he told Dorothy, who was always meeting interesting and eccentric people. He understood that what we were dealing with was something that had a lot of profound dimensions to it and that our approach was very rational and very sane—given how "far out" all this is.

Dorothy initially didn't quite know who I really was or the extent to which I had deep contacts within the intelligence and national security community. Eventually this came up, and I told her: "There's a man whose family has deep ties with the National Security Agency. They are senior NSA people, and are handing off some documents to me."

One of these documents is a big, oversized, Xerox copy of a 1962 document. It has codenames like "MOON DUST Project" and "Project 46" on it, and it is classified Top Secret—but it had not been declassified! It was given to me so I could get it to the right people. This [CIA] document is a wiretap transcript summary of what they learned from listening in on Marilyn Monroe...

This document describes how Marilyn Monroe, who had been recently jilted by the Kennedy brothers and was upset and hurt, called Robert Kennedy and a socialite in New York, an art dealer friend of hers. Marilyn Monroe stated that she was going to set up a press conference and tell the public what Jack Kennedy had told her regarding objects from outer space that had crashed and been retrieved in New Mexico in the 1940s! President Kennedy had confided this information to her because he had seen the ET craft and debris from the UFO crash there. This still Top Secret document is dated the day before the night they found Marilyn Monroe dead.

I've also located someone who was with the Los Angeles Police Department intelligence unit that helped facilitate the wiretapping and monitoring of her up to the time of her death and actually knew how they killed Marilyn Monroe. There is no doubt that she was murdered by cut-out agents of the US intelligence community.

Importantly, this document was signed by James Angleton—the legendary, fanatical, mole-hunter and leak-stopper within the CIA. This document, in my opinion, was a death warrant for Marilyn Monroe because it summarised what she was intending to do rather imminently. I don't think she knew what she had stumbled onto, in terms of the kind of buzz-saw that was going to come at her...

When I mentioned all this to Burl, he said, "Marilyn Monroe and I knew each other very well and I can tell you this: all of us who knew her knew that she had been murdered, but it wasn't until today that I knew why!"...

A Different Day

In 1994, I was invited to be on a special with Larry King. The show was broadcast live from near Nellis Air Force Base, Area 51. Larry King's producer at the time, a guy named Farmer, told me it was the most watched special they'd ever had.

There was a point in the interview when Larry turned to me and he asked, "Well, what do you think the president knows about this?"

As you now know, I had put together the briefing document for the president and Dr Jack Gibbons, the science adviser to the president, and had met with the CIA director the preceding December.

So I said, "Well, I think you should ask the president that question."

And I remember one of the other guests and Larry King said at the same instant, "What does that mean?"

I said, "Well, I think it would be better if you asked the president that question." I was very cryptic.

Afterwards, in Larry King's trailer, we spent some private time together because he knew that I wasn't saying everything. He asked me what I was really up to and I confided in him off the record about our contacts to the president and that I had already briefed the CIA director.

He said, "My God, why didn't you say that on the air? That would have been a scoop!"

I said, "Because I'm still working with these people."

I was discreet about this meeting with the CIA director until after he had left office in '95 or '96.

"My God, this stuff is really real?" Larry asked.

"Of course it is," I said. And then we had a very interesting conversation.

Later I said, "But Larry, why are CNN and the other news outlets covering the O. J. Simpson trial and tabloid trash like that, 24/7? I don't know anyone who's even remotely interested in that stuff. Everyone's so sick of hearing about it."

"Well, we have to," he said.

"What do you mean, you have to? You're a journalist. Why don't you report the big stories of the day? This is the biggest story of the century!" I exclaimed.

"Well, the corporate guys tell us that to keep our ratings up and compete with the other networks we have to cover this kind of lurid stuff, and they pay my big pay check. It's all about ratings, and ratings get the advertising dollars, and advertising dollars pay me my big salary." And he was just that direct about it.

I said, "Yes, but what about journalistic integrity and editorial discretion about what's important, what is really newsworthy?"

"Oh, come on," he said. "That's out the window and has been for years. It's all about money and ratings."

You don't think the big media can go any lower until they hit another low point. It really is a race to the bottom—and they hit new lows every year!

There are also covert national security filters in place to keep these big, sensitive stories out of the news. The corruption of the media is the central reason [why] the secrecy [can be maintained].

In 1995, we organised the first gathering of witnesses. There were about 18 colonels and aerospace people, and people from all over the United States and Russia. We gathered at Asilomar, which is a retreat in Pacific Grove, California, near Monterey. Laurance Rockefeller was very supportive of this and his people were there, as well as some of the initial witnesses such as Brigadier-General Stephen Lovekin. It was all videotaped and audiotaped, but the people to whom I entrusted this task took all the tapes and made a back-door deal with the Rockefeller group. So we don't have any of the records of that testimony! And to this day, we have not retrieved it. Sometimes people will see me being very fierce and careful about people and organisations; there's a good reason for this: that kind of theft and betrayal has happened over and over again.

I told the ETs, "It'd be great if you can do something undeniable while we're here that we can put into this footage to share with the Congress, whom we will be briefing in a couple weeks."

In late 1996/early 1997, we decided that we needed to do a formal briefing in Washington, DC, to which we would invite government whistleblower witnesses, members of Congress and other influential political people with whom we had contacts.

Prior to that briefing, Shari Adamiak, Neil Cunningham, a picture editor for the BBC in London, and I went to a lab in Phoenix run by covert operatives.

One of the operatives said, "You can use our digital labs to put together all the videotape for this meeting for Congress..."

We had collected videotape and photographic images of UFOs from all over the world. Neil Cunningham was going to help us put together the best-ever images to show. Of course, we knew who this man was and we knowingly walked right into Spook Central.

I had flown into Phoenix on a US Airways flight, and as we were landing I began the CE-5 protocols. I went into an expanded state of consciousness and into space and began vectoring extraterrestrial vehicles into the Phoenix area. I told the ETs, "It'd be great if you can do something undeniable while we're here that we can put into this footage to share with the Congress, whom we will be briefing in a couple weeks." This was on March 13, 1997, and the briefing for Congress was in early April.

The laboratory is in Tempe, Arizona, and while we were working there someone ran in all excited. He said, "There are enormous UFOs in the skies over Phoenix and they're being filmed!" It was the Phoenix Lights! And that event was a CE-5 [a close encounter of the fifth kind].

We had landed at around 5.30 pm, and these events were occurring around 8.30 pm. One of the longest sightings was virtually over the lab! That night, on the local news, we saw footage that we could incorporate into the film summary that we would then give to Congress!

One evening, while we were in the lab working very late on these digital images, a retired general walked in. He was a pilot for a private contracting airline running covert ops and transporting drugs for these shadowy projects. We learned that there was a large cell of spooks conducting flight operations out of Phoenix, importing and distributing contraband drugs. This general was all coked up—he was absolutely out of his mind on drugs. As he came over, he saw some footage of a UFO that I got from a military source. He looked at it and said, "How the hell did you get this? This is Top Secret."

I looked at him and I asked, "You think I'm going to tell you?"

"Who the hell are you?" he asked.

I said, "I'm Dr Greer."

He replied, "Oh, yeah, I know who you are."

We were in this lab for days until the wee hours. The characters who wandered in and out were quite unbelievable: coked-up agents, former Air Force and intelligence people, black-ops people, druggies, high-tech people, the whole nine yards—all operating out of this little obscure lab in Tempe...

A gentleman who had approached me at a lecture in Tennessee said he didn't know why I wasn't dead yet and that they'd been watching what I was doing. He was a man who had personally been involved with and seen the launching of a weapons system that had targeted and destroyed an extraterrestrial vehicle. He had individual, specific knowledge of those systems.

During this period between the early 1990s and the late 1990s, I met not one but about a dozen people who had either been at facilities and who were developing these weapons systems or who were at actual events where we had targeted and hit extraterrestrial vehicles using advanced electronics systems.

Of course, the fantasy cover story for Star Wars or SDI [Strategic Defense Initiative] is that there are "brilliant pebbles"—such as those used in the SDI program to intercept missiles and things of this sort. In reality, the real action has always been in the area of electromagnetic weapons systems, electromagnetic pulse (EMP) weapons and scalar weapons systems. When an ET craft materialises in our time-space, it is vulnerable to these advanced EM weapons systems.

We have Top Secret-level witnesses who were present in the aftermath of those events, where they saw or retrieved crashed craft. One witness, Jonathan Weygandt, was on the Bolivian-Peruvian border when the cabal downed one of these ET craft in the early 1990s. We have people who have been in meetings where they were planning to shoot down alien craft. And we have people who have participated in the development of these weapons.

One witness came forward at the 1997 meeting in Washington, DC, that we hosted for members of Congress, the White House and Pentagon officials. Congressman Dan Burton, who was chairman of the House Government Reform and Oversight Committee, was at this event, among other key people. Some of the witnesses who were coming forward were going to say things beyond what even the "friendlies" within this control group felt was safe.

This particular witness, G. A., had specific and detailed information about these rogue Star Wars plans. He had sat in on joint meetings with the NSA, CIA, NRO and some corporate programs, where he saw these plans from the 1970s on. He said they were fully operational: there was a covert ability not only to target and attack actual extraterrestrial vehicles but also to stage a false attack on Earth, using alien reproduction vehicles that were man-made and other weapons systems that were highly classified. The intention was to use "stagecraft" to fake an "alien attack" so that the people of the world would be united around Big Brother and a global corporate-military junta. It would look like The War of the Worlds. And it would surprise the national military command centre and most of the agencies, the CIA, the White House and the Congress, never mind the masses and the media. Just as the gullible masses have swallowed abduction stories and mutilations as proof of "evil aliens", the masses would again take this Star Wars bait. I have interviewed numerous people in classified projects who have been on the abduction squads and have staged abductions and mutilations.

G. A. was really nervous about sharing what he had been part of. He confided in me that he had been approached by people he used to work with: these were buddies who had been in really special operations, and some of them had saved each other's lives in various situations. Such groups are like a true brotherhood. They had been out of communication for a long time with each other, but they knew what he was doing with The Disclosure Project. They were certainly monitoring his dealings with me. They begged G. A. to meet with them before he would say what he was going to in front of these Congress and White House people. A best friend of Al Gore and Bill Clinton was at this meeting, and they knew that powerful congressmen would be there. So he agreed to meet with them.

The morning of the event, in April 1997, we gathered for a private meeting of all of the assembled top-secret witnesses. Astronaut Ed Mitchell was also there. Just when we were about to get to G. A.'s testimony, we took a break. He came up to me and said he had to meet with members of this cell he had been part of—that they had surfaced and they were insisting they meet. He felt enough loyalty to them that he agreed to meet. They took him out to an undisclosed place in Virginia and held him there until about midnight, after this closed briefing for Congress was over. They then returned him to the Westin in DC and he slipped a note under the door of Shari Adamiak, who was my main assistant. In this note he wrote: "I really cannot talk about this now. They are begging me to say nothing about this until they can get things under control. They're going to work on it and they need some time."

G. A. told me that, because of The Disclosure Project, morale within this rogue group was very low. We had exposed the members of this rogue group in charge of faking an ET attack on Earth, and they were panicking. The only real power they have derives from secrecy, the element of surprise and the ignorance of others—and we were changing that dynamic by revealing their plans.

Numerous people on the inside of this operation, including an SAIC executive and a man who'd worked for years with all the major aerospace companies, have told me that what we were doing had thrown this entire so-called MJ-12 control group into chaos. We were moving major information out to the big guns in DC and to the public. There were defections occurring and there was a lot of controversy, and this group that was never very homogenised was becoming more fractured due to our work.

But the insiders said to G. A., "Give us some time to get this under control, and if we can't succeed then you can talk about it."

In a sense, I'm heartened that they haven't played that card yet, but I'm not convinced that it won't be played.

The danger is that almost the entire world, including the majority of people who think they know what's going on with UFOs and covert programs, would be fooled. This type of effort is called a "deceptive indication and warning", or a "false I&W", where you set up something that looks like an attack from an enemy but it isn't. It is a staged event designed to achieve certain strategic objectives, like the Gulf of Tonkin incident. To expand the Vietnam War and make a call for more funding and more troops, we essentially orchestrated what looked like an attack on our assets. So I call this the "Cosmic Gulf of Tonkin Plan". It would take everyone by surprise.

Now, the only way it won't take people by surprise is if they know the truth. And that's why I felt it was so important for G. A. and people like him to come forward, go on the record, name names and talk about what the specific plan was.

Carol Rosin was told by Wernher von Braun, when he was virtually on his deathbed, that these covert programs would attempt to put weapons in space and would hoax extraterrestrial events and stage an attack. He warned this would be a grave danger to the world. But he said one thing that I asked Carol not to talk about during The Disclosure Project events: von Braun said there were electronic warfare systems that affect consciousness; that they were well developed and had the ability to affect behaviour and decisions. These so-called psychotronic weapons posed the gravest threat of all.

Around this time, we had a retreat in Colorado. Present was a woman who had worked in a corporation that was dealing with these technologies and had personally been present when they were used. The operator could turn a dial and cause, say, a board of directors meeting to come to agreement on something within minutes, or could turn the dial the other way and cause everyone to start fighting and proceedings to descend into utter chaos.

I know others who have worked with E-Systems, Raytheon, SAIC and EG&G who dealt with high-end electronics, and they also have seen versions of this same ability.

Sometimes I look at the world and at some of the people whom we have to work with and I'm convinced that they have been turned into zombies, because it doesn't make sense that people are behaving in certain ways: it seems almost scripted.

Some scientists who have free-energy technologies have been targeted with scripted belief systems and behaviour patterns that have kept them from coming forward with these devices. They all seem to have the same personality quirks and behaviours, with unstable vacillations between hopefulness and paranoia. So the technologies always stay hidden—or never even get finished. We've seen this over and over and over again...

About the Author:

Steven M. Greer, MD, is a medical doctor and director of The Disclosure Project, which he founded. He has also been supervising a worldwide search for alternative energy sources, specifically those known as zero-point or over-unity devices, with the plan to identify and develop systems which will eliminate the need for fossil fuels.

On 9 May 2001, Dr Greer presided over The Disclosure Project Press Conference from the National Press Club in Washington, DC. Over 20 military, government, intelligence and corporate witnesses presented compelling testimony regarding the existence of extraterrestrial life-forms visiting the planet and the reverse-engineering of the energy and propulsion systems of these craft. Over one billion people heard of the press conference through webcast and subsequent media coverage on BBC, CNN, CNN Worldwide, Voice of America, Pravda, the Chinese media and media outlets throughout Latin America. The webcast had 250,000 people waiting online—the largest webcast in the history of the National Press Club.

Dr Greer recently published his memoir, Hidden Truth – Forbidden Knowledge, which tells the story of his spiritual journey and his relationship with extraterrestrial beings and his encounters with those forces trying to keep the ET and energy issues secret. This article is an edited extract from several chapters of the book. An extract and a book review were published in NEXUS 13/06. The book is now available from your nearest NEXUS office, or from Crossing Point, Inc., PO Box 265, Crozet, VA 22932, USA.
